

Panda

Project 3- Identity Specification Document

Ziqi Zhou

November 30, 2024

Darren Wilson

VDES19798-Design and Visual Language

Panda Coffee

Catalogue

1.Brand introduction

2. Labeling of Components and Configuration of Identity

- Identifies component definitions
- Identifies the configuration mode

3.Proportions and Safety Zone

- Identification ratio
- Protected Area Description

4. Colour Standards

- Main color
- Secondary colors

5. Typography Standards

- Main fonts

6.Applications

- Stationery Applications
- Signage application
- Uniform and apparel applications
- Vehicle Applications
- Other applications

Brand introduction

Panda is a unique panda-themed coffee shop located in a busy part of the city. Since its establishment, Panda's goal has been to combine traditional Chinese culture with modern coffee experience, providing customers with a coffee space that is both cultural and comfortable. Our iconic image is the panda, a symbol of nature and peace, and coffee is at the heart of the brand. Every cup of coffee and snack is a testament to our commitment to quality and innovation, using fresh ingredients and unique craftsmanship to ensure that every bite feels warm and satisfying.

The logo design of Panda is inspired by the image of panda. The simple and friendly black and white color symbolizes the nature and purity of panda. Our logo adopts the classic black and white gradient color, perfectly presenting the expression of panda and the elements of coffee, cleverly blending "panda" and "coffee" together. In order to highlight the modern feel of the brand, the font of the logo uses a modern sans-serif font with clean lines, which complements the image of the panda, reflecting the traditional cultural background of the brand, but also highlighting the youth, vitality and innovation.

Panda's design concept is not limited to coffee, it is a social space full of ancient Chinese and modern sense, designed to provide a unique experience for coffee lovers who love Chinese culture and comfortable environment. Whether it's relaxing with a cup of coffee or chatting with friends, our cafe is the perfect place to enjoy a leisurely time.

Labeling of Components and Configuration of Identity

In this section, we will describe in detail the components and different configuration modes of the Panda Cafe brand identity to ensure consistency and accuracy in various applications.

Labeling of Components

Panda Graphic Element

Description: The panda graphic element is a core part of the logo and represents the theme and sentiment of the brand. Its simple black and white color scheme and smooth lines reflect the brand's natural and warm feeling. The image of the panda symbolizes peace, nature and comfort and is a symbolic element of the brand.

Usage: As an iconic graphic element of the brand, panda graphics can be used alone as a visual identification symbol of the brand, suitable for different sizes and applications.

Coffee Cup Shape

Description: The logo incorporates a coffee cup shape to highlight Panda Cafe's core function as a coffee shop. The design of the cup shape is simple and modern, giving people a friendly and easily recognizable feeling.

Usage: This graphic element can be displayed in various applications, such as coffee cups, menus, advertisements, etc., highlighting the theme of coffee culture.

Brand Name

Description: The brand name "Panda" uses a modern font, simple and easy to read, with a modern sense and traditional culture balance. The design of the font has a soft arc that echoes the softness of the panda graphic elements.

Use: The brand name should be used with graphic elements to ensure the integrity of the identity, usually in the main visual applications of the brand, such as signboards, menus, advertisements, etc

Labeling of Components and Configuration of Identity

In this section, we will describe in detail the components and different configuration modes of the Panda Cafe brand identity to ensure consistency and accuracy in various applications.

Configuration of Identity

Horizontal Configuration

Description: In this configuration mode, the Panda graphic element and the brand name "Panda" are arranged in a horizontal line. This configuration is suitable for horizontal space applications such as store signs, banner ads, promotional posters, etc.

Usage: This configuration is suitable for spacious occasions, can clearly show the integrity of the logo, suitable for a variety of horizontal display design scenes.

Vertical Configuration

Description: Vertical configuration Aligns the panda graphic elements vertically with the brand name. This mode is particularly suitable for vertical space applications, such as vertical signage, store facades, vertical advertising, etc.

Purpose: This configuration is suitable for situations where vertical space is limited, ensuring that the individual elements of the logo still communicate the brand image clearly and effectively.

Monochrome Configuration

Description: The monochrome configuration uses black or white to ensure that the logo is recognizable in special printing or simplified applications. Instead of using gradients, this configuration renders panda graphics and brand names as a single color, suitable for environments with lower print quality or color constraints.

Usage: When the background is complex or the design restrictions require the use of monochrome, the monochrome configuration can ensure that the logo still has enough recognition, suitable for business cards, letter paper, advertising and other occasions.

Black and White Gradient Configuration

Description: The black and white gradient configuration is the standard configuration of the Panda logo, using black and white gradient tones to make the panda graphic elements and brand name present a smooth transition effect. Black represents the mystery and power of the panda, and white represents purity and gentleness. This configuration combines black and white gradient color with modern and simple font, highlighting the brand's modern sense and traditional culture.

Usage: This configuration is suitable for most occasions, such as store appearance, promotional posters, menus, etc., to maximize the Panda cafe brand image and maintain a strong visual impact in different backgrounds.

Proportions and Safety Zone

In this section, we will explain the proportional relationship and protected areas of the Panda logo to ensure clarity and consistency across different applications.

Identification Ratio

Identification structure:

The proportions of the Panda graphic elements and the brand name

(" Panda ") have been carefully designed to ensure visual balance. The size of the panda graphic is designed to stand out enough, but not to overwhelm the brand name. The brand name is located below the panda graphic to maintain visual harmony.

My ideal ratio is 3:1, meaning the panda graphic is about three times the height of the brand name. This scale ensures that the logo is clearly visible and easily recognizable even at smaller sizes.

Visual balance:

The black and white gradients in the logo should transition smoothly to ensure a smooth transition between the panda graphics and the brand name. No matter how the size of the logo changes, the gradient effect is always consistent, maintaining the visual beauty.

Proportions and Safety Zone

In this section, we will explain the proportional relationship and protected areas of the Panda logo to ensure clarity and consistency across different applications.

Protected Area Description

Minimum clear space:

The minimum clear space around the sign is defined by the height of the panda figure. Therefore, I hope that the space of the protected area should be at least equal to the height of the panda figure, with a certain blank area around the sign. This ensures that the logo is not obscured by other text, images, or design elements, keeping it clear and recognizable.

Application of clear space:

For example, if the height of the panda figure is 10mm, then the protected area around the sign should be at least 10mm, keeping enough blank space around the sign.

When the sign is applied to materials such as business cards, posters or signboards, it is necessary to comply with this protected area requirement to ensure that the sign is not squeezed or obscured by other elements.

Overlap prohibited:

I want the logo not to overlap with any other elements, such as text, images, or other logos. In addition, the logo should not be placed on a complex pattern or strong contrast background, which may affect the readability of the logo.

In small applications, signs must be scaled while maintaining the same clear spatial proportions.

Colour Standards

In this section, we will define the Panda brand's primary and secondary tones, ensuring that the brand image remains consistent across a variety of media and applications.

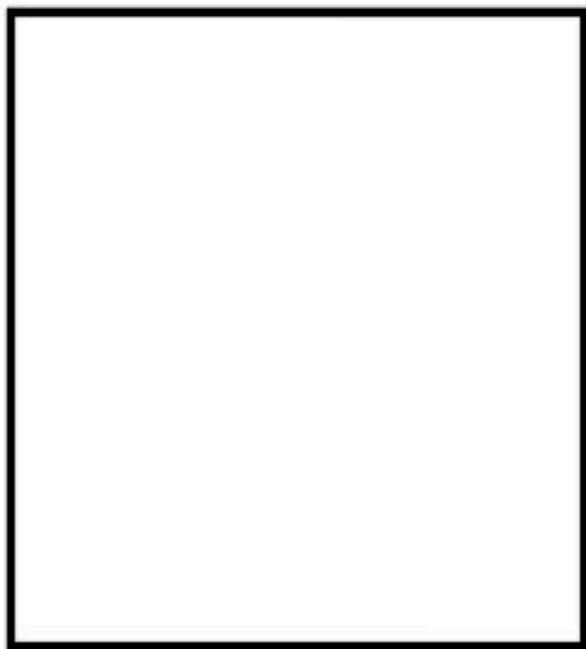

Main Colour

The "Panda" main color palette is black and white, which not only represents the color of the symbolic animal, but also reflects the simple, modern and natural atmosphere of the brand. This gradient is the color that I feel best represents the uniqueness of the panda color when I design the color. It is simple and deep, able to express the natural essence of the panda, and fits in with the warmth and affinity of coffee culture that I want to show.

black
CMYK: 0, 0, 0, 100
RGB: 0, 0, 0
Hex: #000000

white
CMYK: 0, 0, 0, 0
RGB: 255, 255, 255
Hex: #FFFFFF

Black-to-White Gradient
CMYK: 0, 0, 0, 0 to 0, 0, 0, 100
RGB: 255, 255, 255 to 0, 0, 0
Hex: #FFFFFF to #000000

Colour Standards

In this section, we will define the Panda brand's primary and secondary tones, ensuring that the brand image remains consistent across a variety of media and applications.

Secondary Colours

This warm brown color symbolizes coffee and nature, conveying the brand's core values of comfort, warmth and nature.

Coffee Brown

CMYK: 0, 60, 80, 60

RGB: 92, 51, 30

Hex: #5C331E

white

CMYK: 0, 0, 0, 0

RGB: 255, 255, 255

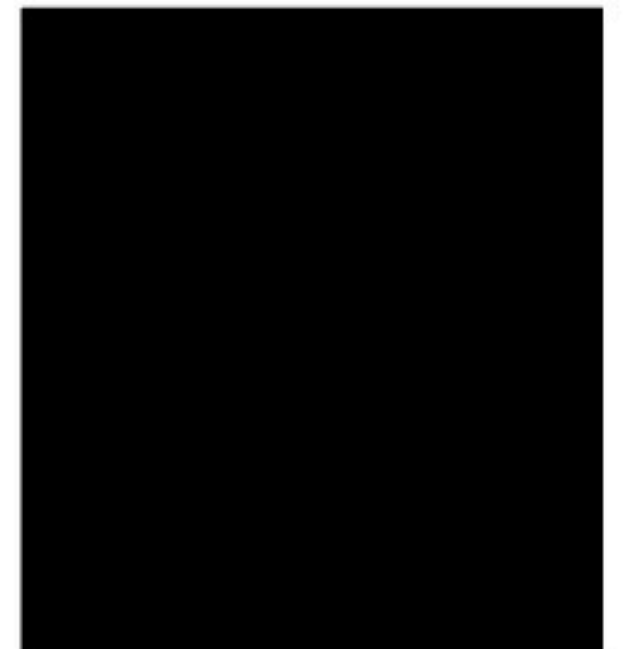

Hex: #FFFFFF

Black-to-White Gradient

CMYK: 0, 0, 0, 0 to 0, 0, 0, 100

RGB: 255, 255, 255 to 0, 0, 0

Hex: #FFFFFF to #000000

Colour Standards

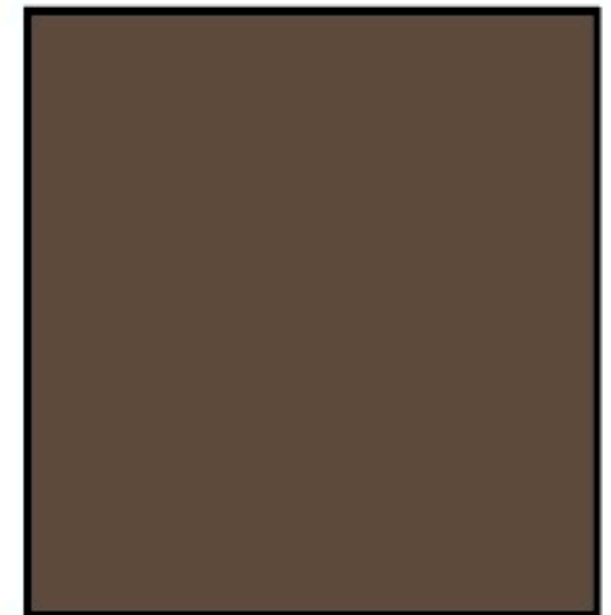

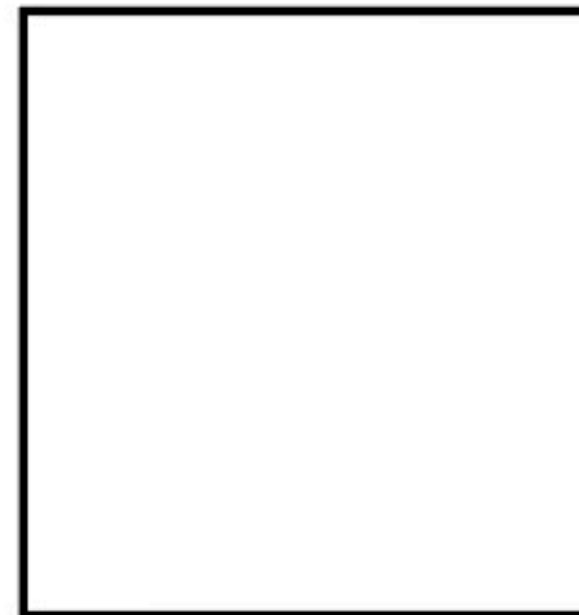

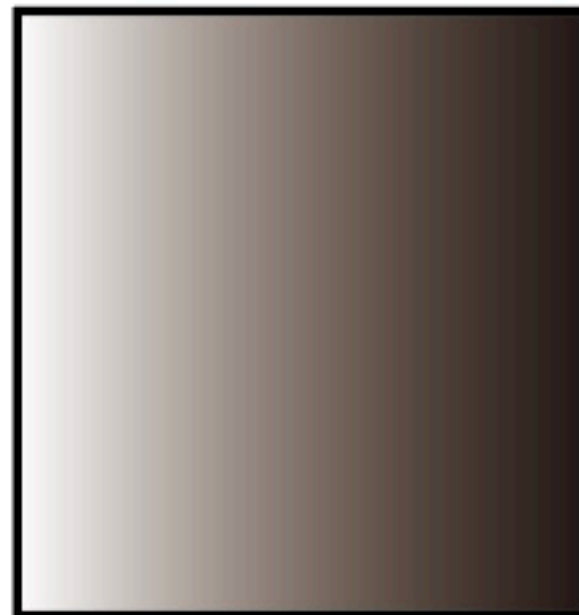

In this section, we will define the Panda brand's primary and secondary tones, ensuring that the brand image remains consistent across a variety of media and applications.

Auxiliary Colour

Auxiliary colors are often used to embellish details or provide visual contrast to enhance the expression of primary and secondary tones. They help to enhance the layers and visibility of the design without taking away the visual focus of the main color.

Coffee Brown
CMYK: 0, 60, 80, 60
RGB: 92, 51, 30
Hex: #5C331E

white
CMYK: 0, 0, 0, 0
RGB: 255, 255, 255
Hex: #FFFFFF

Colour Standards

In this section, we will define the Panda brand's primary and secondary tones, ensuring that the brand image remains consistent across a variety of media and applications.

Main Colour

The "Panda" main color palette is black and white, which not only represents the color of the symbolic animal, but also reflects the simple, modern and natural atmosphere of the brand. This gradient is the color that I feel best represents the uniqueness of the panda color when I design the color. It is simple and deep, able to express the natural essence of the panda, and fits in with the warmth and affinity of coffee culture that I want to show.

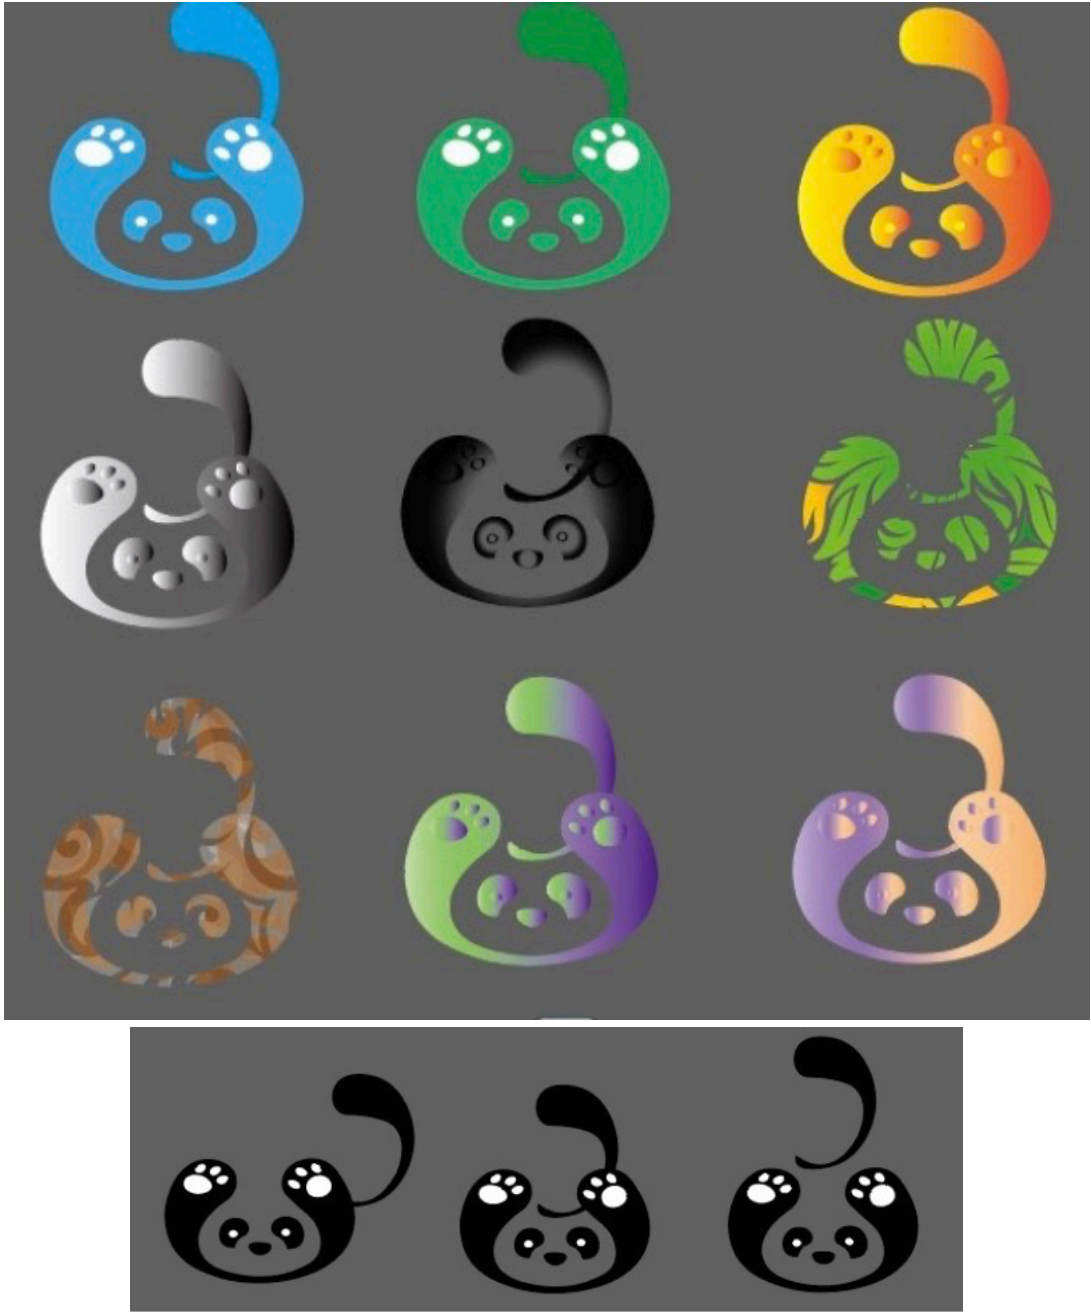

Secondary Colours

This warm brown color symbolizes coffee and nature, conveying the brand's core values of comfort, warmth and nature.

First draft of color design

Typography Standards

In this section, we will define the main fonts used for the Panda brand identity and provide specific templates for each font. Communicate the visual style of the brand by contrasting these fonts.

Main Fonts

Font name: 行楷 - 繁 (Block letters - complex)
Style: Italic
Application scenarios: Helps ensure that brand names are clearly visible in use scenarios of all sizes.
Promotional materials: Used for advertising, menus, posters and other text information display, provide a strong visual impact, at the same time with a sense of modernity and clarity.
Digital media: For text content in websites, social media, emails, and apps to ensure readability on screen.

Panda

First draft of color design

Panda	Panda	Panda
Panda	Panda	Panda
Panda	Panda	Panda
Panda	Panda	Panda
Panda	Panda	Panda

Applications

In this section, we will show how the Panda brand identity and vision system can be used in different materials and applications. To ensure that the brand image is consistent in a variety of scenarios and to achieve the best visual results.

Applications

- Stationery Applications
- Signage application
- Uniform and apparel applications
- Vehicle Applications
- Other applications

Stationery Applications

The Panda pen.

Design: The brand logo will be clearly printed on the top of the pen, and the color selection, using a black and white gradient as the main tone, ensures a simple, modern and attractive. The shell of the pen can be used in bamboo green or coffee brown as an auxiliary color to add a sense of nature and warmth.

Usage scenario: As an employee's office appliance or a gift from customers, the pen will become a carrier of brand exposure in the daily environment. Customers using Panda pen can feel the quality and warmth of the brand invisibly.

Signage Application

Interior sign

Interior signage will focus more on guiding functions, such as restroom signs, menu boards and directions.

In different areas, the colors used will be adjusted according to the atmosphere of the space.

For example, the coffee area can use coffee brown, while the tea area can use bamboo green.

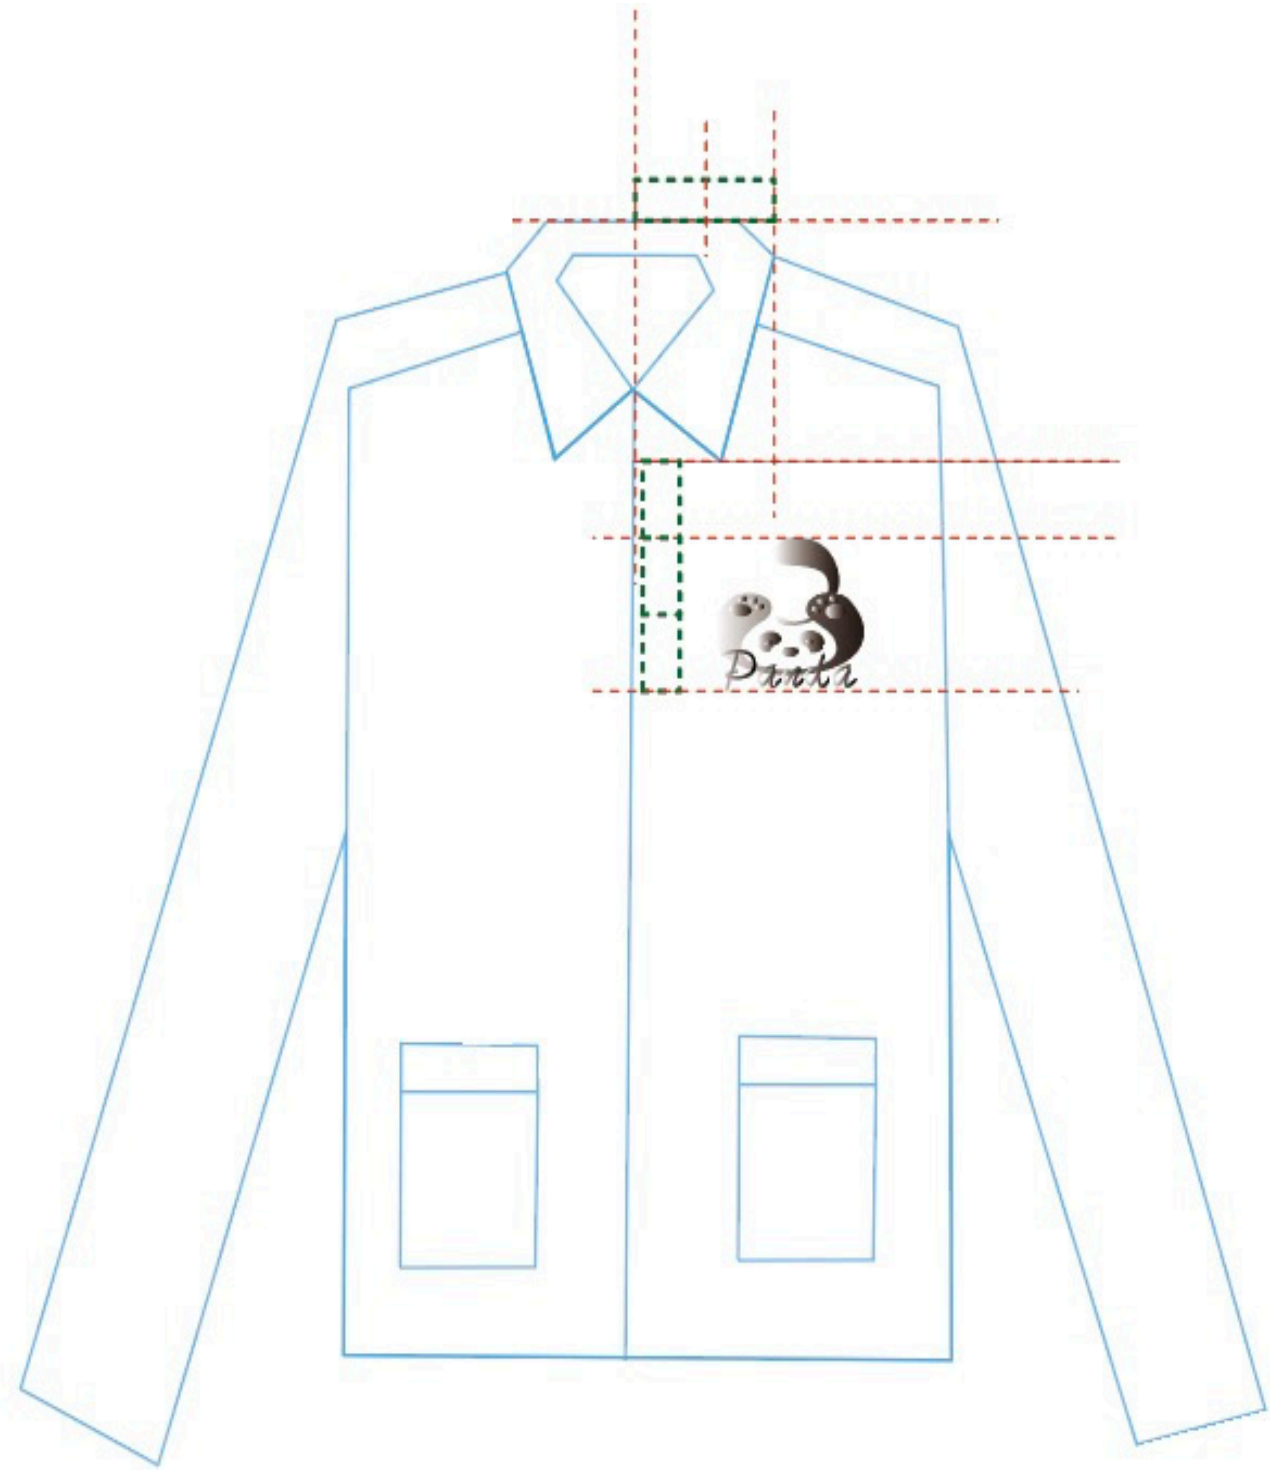

Uniform and Apparel Applications

Staff uniform

The main color of the uniform is black or white, with the "Panda" brand logo on the shoulder or chest, and the color is the main color (black and white gradient).

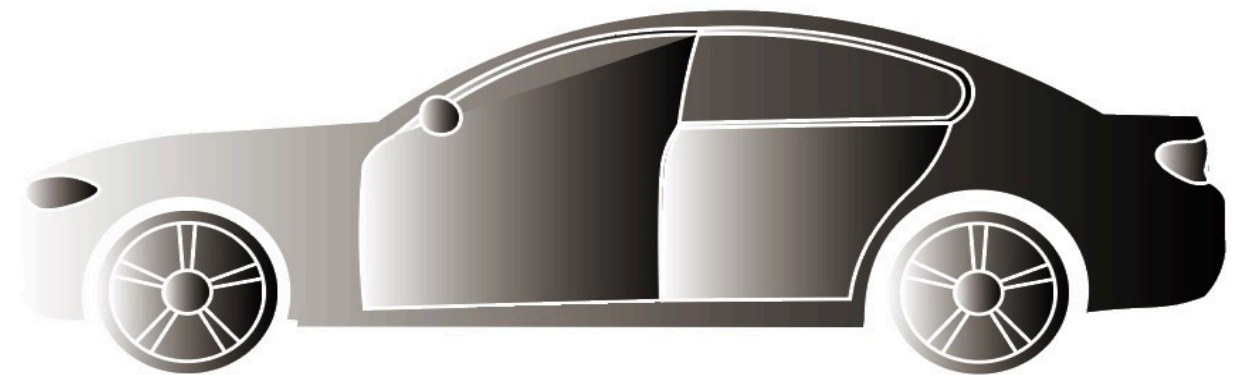

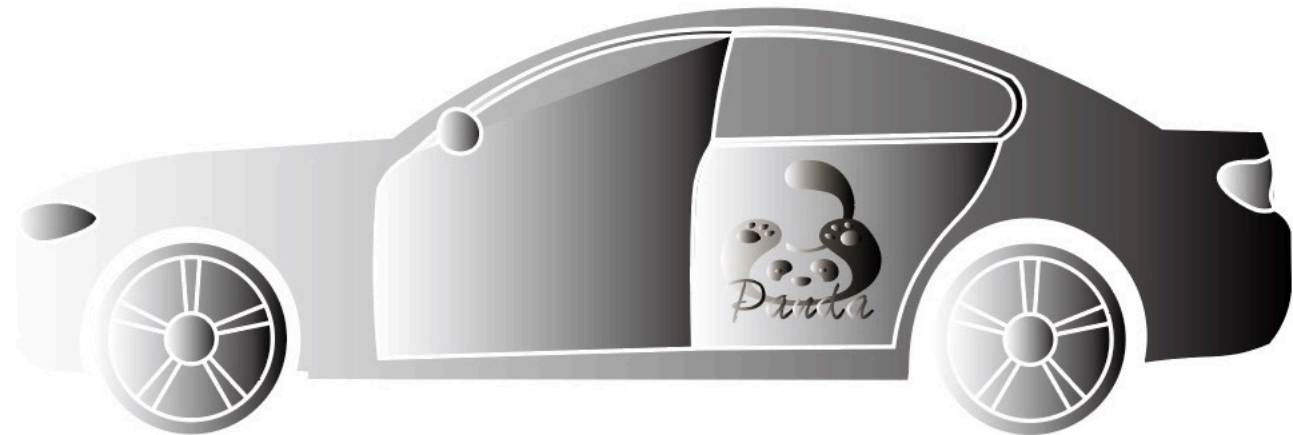

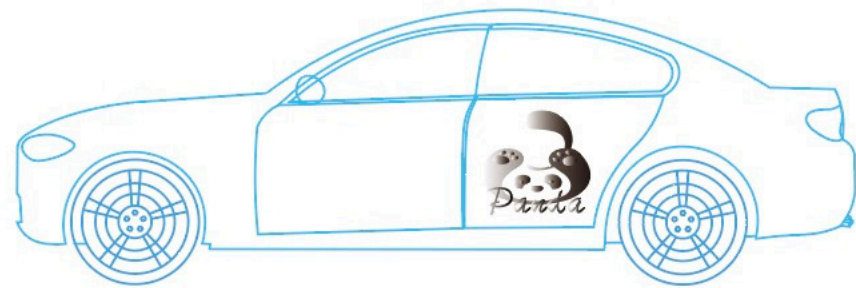

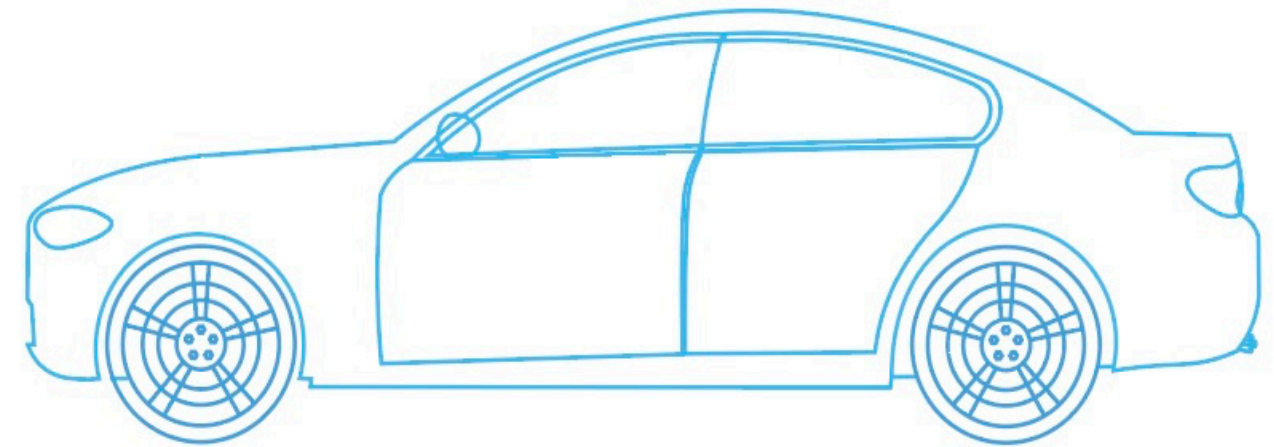

Employee clothing may include T-shirts, aprons, hats, etc. The back of the T-shirt or apron will have a short slogan or mission statement of the brand, such as "the perfect fusion of nature and tradition".

Vehicle Applications

Car:

The side of the vehicle will display an enlarged "Panda" logo with a black and white gradient background and a prominent auxiliary color to ensure that the vehicle is visible and recognizable on the road.

Other Applications

Package design

Coffee cups, takeaway bags and paper bags will be designed in a simple style, with the brand logo clearly printed on the front, the background is bamboo green or coffee brown, with black and white gradual color, making the packaging look modern and natural.

For example, the Panda logo is printed on the cup.

THANK YOU